As a resident of San Mateo County, you know there are many wonderful reasons to live and work here, opportunity and quality of life being two of them. But lately, it’s become harder to call San Mateo home.

With more jobs available than homes, rents have sky-rocketed, and affordable homes are harder to find.

Our neighbors are moving away and it’s impacting our quality of life, from the schools our children attend, to the availability of emergency responders.

And we can all agree commute traffic has made getting around a daily battle.

The Challenge
Limited land and the large gap between new jobs and available housing lead to high rents and high home sale prices.

75% of all SMC land is protected open space
25% is urban and suburban development
2/3 of the developed land is single family homes

From 2010 to 2015, SMC added 79,000 new jobs, but only 4,941 new housing units.

4,941

The cost to our community is less money for family needs, long commutes, congestion and pollution.
